

The European chemical industry's strategic priorities

Sustainability, competitiveness and chemical safety

Progress on sustainability, competitiveness, environment and health are intimately linked: consuming fewer resources, innovating to meet societal needs, competing in the global economy and fostering health and environmental safety will not happen in isolation.